MPA - Board of Director Bio

Quinn graduated from the University of Manitoba with a Master of Physical Therapy in 2016 and a Master of Science (Rehabilitation Sciences) in 2026, where he studied the role of physiotherapy for older adults with persistent low back pain.

Quinn works at the Health Sciences Centre as a physiotherapist for the Manitoba Pain Care Program, a multi-disciplinary service for people living with pain. In this role, Quinn is an advocate for the value of physiotherapy as central to addressing the high personal and societal impacts of persistent pain in our province. Previously, Quinn started his career at Pure Physiotherapy and then operated his own gym-based physiotherapy practice.

Quinn has also been an advocate for celebrating the contributions of his physiotherapy colleagues through the MPA Awards. He looks forward to joining the MPA Board of Directors in the role of Awards Chair to ensure that strong and innovative contributions to our profession continue to be recognized.
