Physical medicine and rehabilitation specialty is an underserved field with great demand and need. We receive between 50-70 consultation requests on average on a weekly basis. Many of our patients, if not the majority, may benefit from physiotherapy within the community.

We will be opening an affiliate in house private physiotherapy clinic referred to as Stand-Up Rehab. This clinic will aim to serve patients within the community and our patients who elect to pursue private physical therapy on the premises.

Our clinic offers five private physiotherapy clinic rooms in addition to a large open space and well-equipped gym. We are a patient centered operation that focuses on quality 1-1 therapist and patient interactions. We encourage 30-minute follow-ups 45-minute initials to ensure comprehensive assessment.

Our focus is to provide exercises in the form of gradual progressive loading programs that improve the capacity of our patients. Our philosophy is that every person has an entry point for exercise.

Our population of interest includes WCB and MPI patients. Our goal is to help partake in the patient's care from a private physical therapy perspective, contributing to a robust therapist caseload. The multidisciplinary nature of our operation offers numerous advantages. The presence of the on-site medical doctor facilitates seamless communication, diagnostic procedures, and medical management strategies.

We offer diagnostic services such as nerve conduction studies and needle EMG to help clarify ambiguous cases and guide rehabilitation. Furthermore, exercises may be facilitated by prescription of pain medications, and consideration of interventional injections to improve symptoms. Medical reassessments are accessible in an efficient manner.
